Would Be Relieved

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Reduction of the automobile taxes and repeal of many of the special excise levies was voted Tuesday by the house ways and means committee.

Under a provision approved by the committee, which is writing a new tax bill, automobile pleasure cars would be taxed at 3 per cent instead of 5 per cent and the levy on automobile trucks, wagons, tires and accessories would be wiped out.

The tax on all grades of cigars was reduced and the levy on alcohol was cut in half.

Other taxes which the committee would repeal are those on jewelry, camera lenses, photograph films and plates, firearms and ammunition, smokers' articles, coin operating machines, works of art and Mah Jongg sets.

No change was made in the taxes on admissions and dues although the committee voted to exempt legitimate theaters housing the spoken drama from the admission tax if the treasury deems it advisable.

The following occupational taxes, which apply on proprietors were repealed: Brokers, including pawnbrokers, ship and customs house brokers; billiard rooms and bowling alleys; shooting galleries, riding academies; autos for hire, tobacco manufacturers and yachts and motorboats.

It was also agreed to reduce from $3 to $1 the annual tax on physicians who dispense narcotics and to cut from 60 cents to 25 cents the tax on each deed or conveyance amounting to $500.

CAL URGES MOMENT OF SILENT TRIBUTE

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—A cessation of governmental, industrial, commercial and business activities for a brief space at 11 o'clock Wednesday, in observance of Armistice day, was recommended to the country Tuesday by President Coolidge.

The president's desire was made known at the White House where officials said that method of observing the anniversary had been unanimously approved by the cabinet at Tuesday's meeting.

The federal government itself will set an example. In the president's opinion the pause should be for one or two minutes as practicable.

ALIENIST TESTIFIES BLAZER WAS INSANE

Littleton, Colo.—(AP)—The defense through the testimony of witnesses for Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer, Englewood, Colo., physician, who is charged with the murder of his daughter Hazel, the 34-year-old "child woman," who never grew from infancy, was brought to a close shortly before noon Tuesday by Lewis Mowry, chief counsel for the accused man. Dr. Howell T. Pershing, Denver, alienist, was the last witness summoned by the defense. He testified that in his opinion the country doctor was insane on the day he was found in the Blazer home in a stupor lying beside the lifeless body of his firstborn.

ADMITS CHARGE OF HALF CASTE IN DIVORCE SUIT

Defense Counsel Withdraws
Denial That Mrs. Rhinelander Is Not White

White Plains, N. Y.—(AP)—Counsel for Mrs. Alice Jones Rhinelander, now being sued for annulment of her marriage to Leonard Kip Rhinelander on the ground of fraudulent representation of her race, Tuesday admitted in open court that their client had some blood of a colored race.

The admission was made by Lee Parsons Davis, chief of defense counsel.

He said:

"The defense counsel withdraws previous denial as to the blood of this defendant and to shorten the trial admits that the defendant has some colored blood."

Davis then asked Supreme Court Justice Morschauer to instruct the jury to disregard that portion of the outline of the plaintiff's case made Monday by Isaac N. Mills which referred to the mental development of young Rhinelander. He also objected to the portion of Mr. Mills outline which cast reflections on the "good name" of the defendant. Justice Morschauer refused to instruct the jury on these points holding that they were relevant.

EX-KAISER IGNORED GENERAL'S ADVICE TO ENTER TRENCHES

Munich.—(AP)—That former Emperor William should have gone into the trenches in November, 1918, and thus saved the monarchy, is the opinion expressed by General Wilhelm Groener, who during the closing days of the World war, succeeded General Ludendorff as quartermaster general.

"I told the emperor's adjutants at that time," said General Groener, "that his majesty should leave immediately for the front, not merely to review his troops or distribute iron crosses, but to fight. It was to be no dash for death, but his majesty should go into the trenches like any common soldier, leaving it to chance whether a bullet should find him. If he fell, I said, it would constitute a beautiful death; if he were wounded a national sentiment would have reverted in his favor."

Labor Would Drop Allied Debt To Save High Tariff

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—The plea of the American Federation of Labor that the war debts of the allies be cancelled has behind it not merely the fraternal consideration for the working men of Europe but a growing fear that, if America insists upon full payment, the protective tariff may some day be lowered and wages deflated.

The federation spoke this time through Matthew Wall, vice president, but the declaration was no sudden or casual affair. It represents a matured consideration of what labor thinks is involved in the debt settlements now being negotiated. Economists are insistent that Europe can never pay her debt except with goods and some of them have gone so far as to argue that the United States must lower her tariff wall to permit imports to flow in larger quantities from the debt-burdened countries.

Any such change would meet with strong disapproval from labor headquarters because competition with cheaply made goods is virtually impossible because of the lower costs of production across the Atlantic. Even though the tariff law may be amended, the labor leaders are apprehensive that a debt settlement which imposes heavy obligations in the immediate future on European countries will mean in the end the abolition of eight hour days and other labor standards in order that goods may be produced and sold in the American market at prices under the present scale even when the tariff is paid.

The Coolidge administration has embarked on a policy of making the European debtors agree to pay. This has been due to a desire to relieve the American taxpayer of more of his burdens and in the belief that payment will strengthen the credit structure of the world.

Labor argues that the small sums involved in payment from Europe can be ignored, that even $10,000,000 a year asked for the next five years from France is too small a sum to be considered in an American budget of nearly $4,000,000,000 when any one of a number of indirect taxes brings in that sum.

It's another case in which the interest of one group of citizens conflicts with that of another. Thus certain consumers who have clamored for low prices on goods they must purchase have always insisted that the protective tariff simply added to the cost of living while the labor leaders and the Republican party managers have contended that high wages and American standards of living are maintained because of the protective tariff.

JUGO-SLAVS AND ITALIANS CLASH

Authorities Act to Prevent Another Demonstration
Against Fascisti

Belgrade, Jugoslavina.—(AP)—The Jugo-Slavian authorities are taking every precaution to prevent further anti-Italian demonstrations such as those which occurred throughout the country Sunday. A great mass meeting called for Thursday at Agram has been forbidden.

Foreign Minister Nichitch was received by the king after an interview with the Italian minister, General Boderio, who protested against the burning of Italian flags during the demonstration in Laibach, Spalato, Agram and Belgrade.

The foreign minister faced interpellations in the Skupstin (national assembly) Tuesday on the subject of the Fascist treatment of the Jugo-Slav minority population in Trieste, which caused Sunday's outbreaks.

CAPITAL TAX DEFEATED BY FRENCH BOARD

Finance Committee of Chamber of Deputies Votes Down
Levy on Securities

Paris.—(AP)—A capital levy, described as a 15 per cent tax on securities was defeated Tuesday in the finance committee of the chamber of deputies which is studying Premier Painleve's plan for financial restoration of the French treasury. This was considered a heavy reverse for the government.

The failure of M. Painleve to include real estate and landed property, confining the levy to securities alone arrayed the deputies representing towns and cities against him. Following the vote, he decided that it was necessary to consult President Doumergue and accordingly left the chamber for the Elysee palace.

Efforts to effect a compromise between the conflicting elements in the Paludve majority failed Tuesday morning and the block of the left is now thought to be disrupted beyond repair. A cabinet meeting was called for 5 o'clock to consider the situation.

The Socialist leader M. Blum, demanded a vote in the finance committee of the chamber of deputies on the Socialist proposal for a capital levy. The committee rejected the proposal by 16 to 12, upon which M. Blum declared the left block was dead. He said he would bring the question up in the chamber of deputies and oblige the various groups to assume their responsibilities before the country.

NEBRASKA OPENS DOORS TO IOWA PAUPER GROUP

Nebraska City, Neb.—(AP)—Mrs. Fred Neel and her seven minor children "legal residents of nowhere" departed from Iowa because they might become public charges and do haven at last. Mrs. Neel's case attracted attention in Des Moines several weeks ago when labor officials took up the case in court to prevent Police authorities deporting them on the alien pauper law. The result was they were sent here.

In a two-room house on the outskirts of town Mrs. Neel and her seven youngsters, her sister, Mrs. John Hoffman, and the latter's husband, Mrs. County commissioners have stretched a point. The Nebraska law which says recipients of country aid must be residents a year but the Neels get 55 weekly. This and Hoffman's wage as a laborer keeps the group together.

NEWLY FOUND POWERFUL RAY SEEKING NAME

Scientists Meeting in Madison
Call Discovery Great Achievement

Madison.—(AP)—Scientists attending the National Academy of Sciences here are casting about for a name for the powerful new rays discovered by Dr. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology. It is very probable that the rays which still are in a far-off stage of development and of which there is little known on which to base a theory will become known as Millikan rays, in honor of the man who first brought authentic evidence of their existence before the world.

The new rays are incoming, that is, originating in the outside of infinite space, and in this fact, and in the fact of their origin of atoms passing over atoms, scientists proclaim something novel in rays.

What the force collects in the rays of electrons or other elements will be a matter for investigation for many years. Uses for the rays are not yet known. In fact so little is known of the character of the new rays, that the discoverer is not now indulging in theories as to what the future will bring to science when the rays have been given further study.

The power character of the rays, if it continues to increase might have a disastrous result to life upon earth, although scientists discussing the rays Tuesday do not believe that this would happen.

The reason for this lies in the statement of Dr. Millikan that while the frequency of the "incoming" rays is great, and their action is going on all the time, there is not enough of them to produce any tangible result, on earth at this time. The tests were made more than ten miles above the surface of the earth by instruments attached to balloons, the scientist claims. The sun, it was stated, has no effect on the atomic action producing the rays.

The rays are believed by Dr. Millikan to have extraordinary absorbing power. Discoveries of the scientist are the result of research since the close of the World war following out theories first advanced by German scientists on the possible rays in space.

Scientists attending the academy believe the discovery by Dr. Millikan to be one of the outstanding scientific achievements of the year, despite its meager details and the unknown possibilities of the rays.

FROZEN LOANS CLOSE DANBURY STATE BANK

Superior.—(AP)—"Frozen loans" were given by D. S. Wilzig, state bank examiner, as the reason for his closing of the Danbury State bank at Danbury Monday. Examiner Wilzig who is from East Chicago, stated the bankers had loaned money to farmers when prices were high and now were not able to realize the loans, owing to a drop in the price of land.

Note Writing Game May Expose Poison Pen User

Beloit.—(AP)—In a little country school house lit by the glow of lanterns and kerosene lamps, members of the Turtle district school district, four miles east of here, Monday night made merry as they wrote notes from dictation. And these notes more likely than not may bring a heavy fine or prison term to some one on a charge of blackmail. For as these Turtle district folk copied threatening letters dictated to them by E. J. Hennecke, school district chairman, there may have sat among them the person or persons who for five years has terrorized the district with "Poison Pen" letters. There were threats of burned barns and homes and nameless things that might be worse in these letters.

As these people, apparently without objection, gave samples of their handwriting there sat beside Mrs. E. R. Higgins, clerk of the school board, a genial plump, slightly bald, little man—a stranger to those gathered there. From time to time he would make a suggestion to Chairman Hennecke. No one present except members of the school board knew it but this little man was a detective agency operative on the case as the latest step in Turtle township's search for the mysterious author of the threatening letters.

If the writing samples gathered bear out the suspicions of the board a warrant for the arrest of the letter writer may be issued here Wednesday. So said the detective as he scanned the sheets before him.

For five years Turtle district farmers have been enraged at the receipt of "poison pen" letters. "Don't run for school office or your barn will be burned," warned a typical letter. At most every prominent farmer in the district received one or more of the letters.

Beloit and state fire marshals aroused by the threats, investigated in 1921, but there were no results. When last August another note asked pretty Miss Ora Haas, Beloit, teacher in the Turtle district school, not to return because she had favored the "Higgins and Kelly kids," the school board determined to prosecute the search to the finish. Insurance firms showed a disinclination to insure barns and homes in the district. Monday night's meeting is the latest move in the game.

BARES SCHEME TO OPEN BASE NEAR PANAMA

Capt. Oldys Tells of Diplomat's Letter but Is Not Allowed to Read It

CALLS SITUATION CRITICAL
Says Secretary Approved Hawaiian Air Defense but Did Not Establish It

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The government's air policies both at home and in far off American possessions were assailed Tuesday in defense testimony before the Mitchell court-martial. Captain Robert Oldys of the air service called to support Col. Mitchell's charge of near treasonable disregard of national interest in aviation declared he had in his possession a letter written by the American minister to Guatemala in 1923, warning of a scheme by "alien interests" to establish a foothold in Central America near the Panama canal.

The minister, the witness said, unsuccessfully urged the Washington government to establish an airmail service to America. Actual presentation of the letter in evidence was delayed temporarily at least by objections from the prosecution.

Captain Oldys also quoted at length from the aviation report presented in 1923 by the Lassiter board of army officers, containing recommendations for air defense of the Philippines and Hawaii which the witness said had been approved by the secretary of war but never carried into effect.

This report, he said, described the situation in the air service as "unfortunate and critical."

So many objections were interposed by the prosecution that Col. Blanton Winslow, a member of the court, reminded Col. Mitchell the prosecutor of his previous statement intended to prove the truth of Col. Mitchell's charges, if it was offered in extenuation or mitigation.

Col. Moreland said he must continue to object on the grounds that the evidence being offered was "incompetent, irrelevant and not obtained from the best sources."

MANY ACCIDENTS

Captain Oldys then told the court that while he was stationed in Hawaii there were 50 airplane forced landings and airplane crashes that that there was a threat to hold pilots financially responsible for the loss of their craft.

Brig. Gen. Ewing E. Booth asked Captain Oldys how he would organize the general staff.

"The same as Col. Mitchell," the captain said.

Major H. Arnold, in charge of the information division of the air service, said that there were 35 airmen deaths in 1924 and 45 thus far in 1925. The official records showed the cause to be first lack of weather information, collapse of the craft in take and motor failures.

The major testified that the United States air service did not compare favorably with those of major powers as general Drum had reported to a house investigation committee.

General Howe developed by questioning the witness that 27 per cent of all accidents in the army air service were due to material defects and 57 per cent due to errors of judgment on the part of the fliers.

CONNECT COUPLE HELD HERE WITH GREEN BAY THEFT

Police Convinced Four People
Arrested Here Are Members of "Theft Ring"

Mr. and Mrs. Max Arnsen, Chicago, one of two couple arrested last Friday afternoon by Police Officer Albert L. Deltgen on charges of larceny and having stolen goods in their possession, have been positively identified by two salesmen of the Paris clothes shop of Green Bay as the couple who were in that store on Oct. 17, the day a valuable coat was stolen. Chief of Police George T. Pina announced Tuesday.

The couple not only answer the description which was sent out from the store to police in the state, but they were recognized by the salesmen at the police station.

COAT IS MISSED

On the day the couple was in the Green Bay store, the woman absent herself from her husband for about 20 minutes, going upstairs for a smoke, the salesmen related. The latter said she looked like a dope fiend, had dark circles under her eyes and appeared slightly nervous. When the woman returned to her husband, the couple left the store immediately, and it was shortly after their departure that the coat was missed, according to the salesmen.

Authorities in Milwaukee, Beloit, Janesville and other cities in Wisconsin have asked for pictures of the couple, with the hope that the pair may be identified with shop lifting activities in those cities.

MEMBERS OF "RING"

Chief Pina returned late Monday from Chicago where he had gone to conduct a search of Arnsen's apartment. Nothing of any importance was found in the apartment. However, it is the belief of Chief Pina that the two couples belong to a "Chicago ring" which disposes of stolen goods as soon as it is received.

Charles Zanders, one of the women under arrest, is the wife of George Dickerson, it has been determined by the police. The two couples were living together in Arnsen's apartment at Chicago.

The automobile which they had in their possession at the time of their arrest, is not a stolen car. Chief Pina learned at Chicago. It was purchased only a few weeks ago from a James J. Powers at Chicago. Arnsen still owed Powers $115 on the transaction. When he purchased the car, Arnsen told Powers he intended taking a trip to Springfield, and that he had no intention of leaving the state.

GET POLICE RECORD

A complete police record of Arnsen is expected from Chicago by Chief Pina by Wednesday. Although no record of Dickerson was found in the Chicago police department, Chief Pina has learned something of Dickerson's activities in Minneapolis.

He said Dickerson had been arrested there some months ago by federal authorities for participation in liquor transactions. Chief Pina has communicated with Minneapolis police to determine whether Dickerson is still wanted there.

Federal authorities were in the city Sunday, and are expected back within a few days to lead what operation. Arnsen and Dickerson carried on in the drug trade. Two opium pipes and a small quantity of the drug were found in their trunks.

The couples were arrested here last Friday following alleged shop lifting operations in several department stores here. They were discovered by a saleslady in Green Dry Goods Co. store.

Whiteman Opens New Field To U. S. Music Composers

Although Paul Whiteman has come to be known the world over as the best conductor of popular music, his work is but started. His greatest difficulty now is to secure compositions commensurate with the orchestra's powers and future possibilities. Its permanent success, after all, must rest in the hands of composers interested in writing for it.

The peculiar situation occupied by the Whiteman Orchestra is sympathetically described by Deems Taylor in an article in "Music," printed during the past summer. He says:

"For the first time in musical history, I think we have the spectacle of a performing medium outgrowing its old repertoire without developing a new one. Here is a new sort of ensemble, and there is, comparatively speaking, nothing for it to play. Somebody has got to write some serious—" and by that I emphatically don't mean solemn—music for the American jazz orchestra, and write it very soon; for the opportunity of a generation is facing modern composers, and it would be a shame and disgrace to let it go to waste."

Besides individual invitations, Mr. Whiteman has issued a call to all composers in the popular field, amateur and professional and pledged hearings for all worthy works presented to him, with the full cooperation of his staff of arrangers and the promise of ample rehearsals.

Mr. Whiteman has not gained his present day reputation by chance. His father has been supervisor of music in the Denver public schools for three decades, and he received the advantages which accrue to the youth who is brought up in a musical environment. His first job was with a Pacific Coast symphony orchestra in which he played the viola, but because of meager remuneration and his natural distaste of all subordination caused him to leave the work. He turned his attention to the livelier if baser contribution to the subtlest art, later organizing his own band to play in a San Francisco restaurant.

This was the start of his career. He trained his band along his own ideas of jazz, and it was not long before he was establishing no little reputation. Critics soon acclaimed him, a European tour proved a huge success, and he came back to find his orchestra in demand everywhere.

DANIELSON CONDUCTING CITIZENSHIP HEARING

George N. Danielson, United States naturalization examiner, will conduct a class for the examination of night school students at Appleton Vocational school on Wednesday evening. He also will conduct examinations at the hearing in court before Judge Edgar V. Werner on Thursday.

During the seven years he has worked in Outagamie co., approximately 500 residents have been admitted to citizenship after examination by him. His work in the near future will not be in this vicinity.

Under new regulations from Washington, D. C., naturalization examinations will not be assigned to any definite territory but will rotate in appearance in court and at filing days. This county is in the St. Paul district. Six examiners work out of St. Paul and under the new order, a new man will appear here each time until the circle is complete.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Partly overcast tonight and Wednesday; warmer tonight.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Generally fair weather is reported over the entire country this morning, except on the Pacific coast, where rains are falling. Temperatures are somewhat below the normal in the east and south where the pressure is high, but above the seasonal normal in the northwest where the pressure is low.

This pressure distribution, high in the east and south, and low in the northwest, is favorable for a period of seasonal temperatures in this section, with generally fair weather continuing for a day or two.

CAR TIPS OVER WHEN BOYS TRY TO AVOID CRASH

Four Lawrence College Freshmen in Car Wrecked on Way to Waukesha

Forced to take the ditch to avoid crashing into the rear of another car brought to a sudden stop by suddenly applied brakes, a car driven by Julian completely over about 1 o'clock Saturday by four companions turned almost completely over about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon about eight miles east of Waukesha. One side of the car was completely wrecked but the occupants escaped without serious injury.

Bender with Leo Solinger, Milton Lillge, and Donald and Miller Babcock, all residents of this city and freshmen at Lawrence college, were proceeding from Milwaukee to Waukesha to witness the Lawrence-Carroll football game. A car shot out from a side road in front of the Appleton car and when just ahead of the boys going toward Waukesha suddenly came to an almost complete stop. Bender applied his brakes and turned off to the side of the road to avoid a collision. The sudden application of the brakes with the quick twist of the wheel is thought to have tipped the car. The driver was thrown from the front to the rear seat and all of the boys landed on the top as the car turned over. The driver of the car ahead made no attempt to stop although it was said he saw the accident.

Bender suffered a slightly wrenched shoulder and Donald Babcock was cut by flying glass but the passengers were merely badly jarred. A rear wheel, fender, running board and the two plate glass windows on the one side were the worst damages to the car.

SENIORS GIVEN CUP FOR FLOAT

Upper Classmen Make Best Appearance in "Pep" Parade Before Football Game

Seniors of Appleton high school were awarded a silver loving cup by the student council Monday morning during the assembly period as a reward for having the best float in the pep parade Friday evening. Several floats took part in the parade. The senior float was awarded first place, the student council, second place, and the A club float, third place. The seniors had a realistic snow scene depicting Appleton in the act of "snowing Kaukauna under." The council float combined the colors of every class of the school with the school and Kaukauna colors. The A club had 15 football men in uniform drawing a large pasteboard football on wheels.

The floats were judged on five counts: originality, number of people participating, amount of work required on the float, the final result of the work and the theme or idea back of it. H. H. Helble, school principal, William Frank and George Dams were the judges.

MILWAUKEEAN HELD IN JAIL AS EMBEZZLER

R. L. Hunt, Milwaukee, who was arrested in that city last Friday and returned here Saturday by Detective Sgt. John R. Duval, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in municipal court Monday morning on a charge of embezzlement, and the case was adjourned to 10 o'clock Friday morning, Nov. 13. Bond was fixed at $1,000 which he was unable to furnish and he was committed to the county jail until the time for his trial.

Hunt is said to have collected $200 as part payment on a car sold by the Rossmessl and Wagner Co. of this city to a Milwaukee man, and to have failed to turn the money over to the local firm.

Frank Payr, who has been seriously ill for about three months is recovering. It was announced Monday, Mr. Payr will be 92 years old on Nov. 25.

NOISY DRUNK IS DEPRIVED OF CAR FOR SIX MONTHS

Gets Abusive When He Is Taken to Police Station After Collision

A policy of "no mercy" with drunken drivers is being adhered to by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court these days. All found guilty of this offense are certain of a stiff fine, in addition to have the use of their car taken away from them for a period not exceeding one year.

The latest drunken driver to feel the teeth of the law is Frank G. Bauernfeind, 308 E. Maple-st. He was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs and was refused the use of his automobile for six months upon his plea of guilty to a charge of driving his car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in court Monday morning.

Bauernfeind was arrested at the police station at 5:30 Sunday afternoon by Sgt. Herbert Kapp when the former persisted in arguing with R.

J. Zuehlke, whose car Bauernfeind had collided with on W. Prospect-ave a few minutes earlier. The two had proceeded to the police station after the collision.

Bauernfeind was driving east on W. Prospect-ave, while Zuehlke was going in the opposite direction when the crash occurred. The right front fender on the former's machine was bent. This was the only damage done.

While they were discussing the collision at police headquarters, Bauernfeind was said to have become abusive, which resulted in his arrest by the Sgt. Kapp on a charge of driving his machine while intoxicated.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wettengel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank St. Andrews and Miss Laura Hagen attended a chicken supper at the Catholic church at Hollandtown Sunday.

49 COUPLES APPLY FOR PERMITS IN OCTOBER

Dan Cupid did some better shooting with his little bow and arrow in Outagamie-co during October of 1925 than he did in the same month of the previous year. Applications for 49 marriage licenses were received last month while last year only 32 couples applied. The 1923 October record was 49, the same as this year, while in 1922, the banner marriage year of the county, the number of licenses applied for in October was 57.

A total of 355 marriage licenses have been issued by John E. Hant-schel, county clerk, in 1925. This tops the total number of licenses issued last year which was 333. In 1923 373 licenses were granted, and in 1922 the greatest number of licenses ever applied for in this county were recorded. This record figure was 423 but at the present rate the 1925 marriage license business bids fair to equal the 1922 mark.

Say "No"

if asked to "try" a substitute for Quaker. That is, if you want real Quaker flavor... that famous Scotch flavor... in breakfast oats

THERE is only ONE way to get the true Scotch flavor in oats which distinguishes Quaker flavor... and that is by getting the Quaker brand.

Oats was originally a Scotch dish. It must have true Scotch flavor to be at its best.

Remember this, for your own sake, when tempted to "try" some ordinary brand.

That flavor is milled in. Nobody as yet has successfully imitated it. Grown-ups and children who ordinarily don't take to oats, respond to this unique flavor. And flavor, as you know, is the all-important point in food.

Milled under exclusive Quaker methods applied to the finest, plumpest grains. Quick Quaker is the world's fastest cooked breakfast dish.

Takes 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain toast.

Due to Quaker milling methods, it supplies, too, the "roughage" you need to make laxatives seldom necessary.

Look for the picture of the Quaker on the label. See that it is there before you buy breakfast oats.

COUNTRY WILL KEEP WARM
At the beginning of the anthracite coal strike there was widespread prediction of suffering and loss to consumers. This was principally propaganda by either the miners or operators, or both, designed to create public sentiment that would compel a settlement or government intervention. Fortunately, the public kept its head. It had heard this cry of "wool" before, and it went on saving wool regardless of glaring headlines and direful predictions. The other day we read in that great compendium of useful information, the New York Times, an instructive article on "How to Burn Soft Coal." From which the staid New Yorker and New Englander might gather that it is still possible to keep warm with other kinds of fuel than hard coal, and that the generation of heat from bituminous coal, coke and oil was not a lost art.

Today we read a statement to the effect that President Coolidge in his message to congress will in effect ignore the anthracite strike, and another in substance that assurance has been given the president by John Hayes Hammond, chairman of the United States Coal commission, that there will be no real suffering in the country due to the absence of hard coal if the people sanely adopt methods to use substitutes. When it is a question of going cold or keeping warm, the people unquestionably will act sanely. Easterners will burn coke, soft coal and oil even though they have never heard of them or seen them before. It is, in fact, going to be a comparatively easy matter for the provincial east to discard a fixed habit and try out something new. It may soil its hands or its face in the process, but it will keep warm, and that is the main thing.

The country, therefore, has nothing to fear from the anthracite strike. It might just as well have been called or invited so far as the fuel consumer is concerned. This time the public is going to win and it is going to be a victory that will make the anthracite monopoly think twice before it considers another protracted suspension of business. Millions of dollars of trade it used to enjoy will now be permanently lost, for after this winter's educational experience a considerable portion of the east will stick to fuels it finds better and cheaper than hard coal.

FRANCE CAN CURE HERSELF
At last France seems to be on the way to self-cure of her financial ills. Six years of uncertainty and attempt to put off the evil day of reckoning have finally forced her to accept the one remedy. Two factors have contributed to this. The first is Locarno, which makes it possible for France to reduce her military expenditures by a large sum. Already she is clamoring for a conference for the limitation of land forces. The second factor is the contraction of external credit, and the resultant inability to bolster up the franc. The American policy, with or without the connivance of the government, is to restrict private loans until there is an improvement in France's fiscal condition. The Painleve ministry now proposes to levy a sweeping direct tax on wealth, against which the bank of France will advance some four or five billion francs temporarily. These proposals have been approved by the cabinet and as soon as they are adopted by the chamber of deputies we may look for immediate improvement in France's financial position and a balanced budget. Without doubt it will also be accompanied by extensive American private loans. With this assistance, supported by assurance of a healthy fiscal condition for years to come, France's economic recovery should be greatly accelerated. Time is opportune for a re-opening of the debt negotiations, and the change in the situation during the last few days should favor the reaching of an agreement. Every day we have news of an improved outlook in Europe, politically, financially, economically. We may now look for important developments in Germany, where the Locarno treaty is hailed with satisfaction by the industrial elements and undoubtedly will be signed and ratified in due time, notwithstanding nationalist opposition. Germany will be in the market for large private loans, and they will be made in New York. Her rapid industrial and commercial recovery seems certain. The Europe of next year will scarcely know the Europe of last year.

ITALY WANTS TO PAY UP
Italy's debt settlement commission comes to the United States under favorable circumstances. Against odds second only to those of the central powers, she has worked diligently and conscientiously for sound reconstruction. Whatever we may think of Mussolini as a man or of his political acts, he has lead the Italian people constructively through a period of peril and of difficulty. The Italians have made real sacrifices in order to restore their credit and to save themselves economically. They have submitted to very heavy taxation, and they have cut down their military establishment to a minimum. They have only a ten per cent interest in reparations. Because of their lack of coal and the necessity of importing a large portion of their raw materials, they have been at a disadvantage industrially. Nevertheless, they have made great strides and although the trade balance is still against them, the outlook is favorable. In other words, they have made an honest effort to put their house in order by practicing severe economy, by increasing production, by cutting down war expenditures and taxing themselves relentlessly.

The record of Italy is in sharp contrast to that of France, which has refused to tax its wealth adequately and which, rightly or wrongly, has maintained a large and expensive military establishment. While our financial terms with France have not been agreed upon and while there is undeniably sentiment in official French circles to repudiate the debt, or at least not to settle in good faith, it is not improbable that France will be granted the most liberal terms when she is finally forced to come across. In some respects she is better off than Italy. She is a richer and more self-contained nation, and she has succeeded in building up a favorable trade balance.

We ought not to penalize Italy for her self-denial and thrift, nor for the resulting progress she has made toward her economic restoration. On the contrary, we ought to encourage and promote it, and reward her efforts with the utmost liberality consistent with our general debt policy. It has been suggested that an interest accumulation of $500,000,000 be cancelled, as was done in the case of Belgium. This, or the granting of an exceedingly low rate of interest and repayment over a long period of years, would seem to be recommended. We should like to see the government deal as generously with Italy as may be possible for it to do in honor and in good faith with the rest of our debtors.

By EAL COCHRAN
SHIVERS
Early in the morning when it's near'n' time to rise,
Shortly after day break, when ya open up your eyes,
Old Jack Frost is lurkin' and he sets his cold waves loose.
Windows all are open, and ya shiver like the dows.
How could ya like to snuggle in the covers o'er yer head?
How ya hate the thought of ever gettin' out of bed!
Course the fresh air's bully and it's mighty good for ya,
Still ya kinda hate it when it chills ya through and through.
Would that someone else would come and shut the windows tight, Woe!
The thought of risin'—well, it doesn't seem just right.
Still, ya gotta do it, so hop with all yer might, an' rush into the front room, where the grate is burnin' bright.
Oh, the warmth that greets ya! It's the thrill of every day.
There ya find the blaze to chase the chillness away.
After all, the coldness and the fresh air of the night, really's worth the while because it keeps ya feelin' right.

HYGIENE IS ECONOMY
There is a reason why certain commercial interests heartily disapprove of what I am trying to teach here. They don't like the way I spell economy—you see I have a mean way of withholding the o k which some reputed health authorities give it, and adding the suffix h u g.
One thing the discerning reader of this column is likely to discover is that good hygiene is true economy.
If only enough people would heed the voice of one crying in the wilderness it is entirely reasonable to believe that we could leave the coal miners, the operators and the dealers holding the bag at the end of this annual demonstration of theirs. Here's a significant fact sponsored by physicians: It takes almost as much coal to heat the house, hold atmosphere from 60 degrees F up to 70 as it does to heat it from 20 degrees up to 60.
A high household temperature should be considered an extravagant luxury, though practicing doctors are very foolish to discourage such a luxury, at least in hard times.
Please read over the simple fact I have cited, ignoring the padding snugly placed around it. When you have tucked it away in your mind, where you can find it again when you need it, try to pack a second fact away in there alongside it, if there is room.
A household temperature of 72 degrees F. with the low relative humidity which generally goes with it, feels more chilly than a temperature of 65 degrees F. with the higher humidity which generally goes with it.
Should this strain bring on a headache, try a half dozen somersaults forward and backward. You'll be surprised how you'll come up on your feet chuckling—if at all.
Now a little more padding. Heating the air in the house tends to dry it out. We are most comfortable when the atmosphere contains about 40 per cent relative humidity. As a rule the outside air in the winter time will retain that proportion of moisture until it has been heated above 60 degrees F. From this point upward the relative humidity diminishes out of proportion with the degree of heating, and unfortunately no good practical means of maintaining the relative humidity at the comfort level has been found for dwellings heated above 65 degrees F. Numerous methods of evaporating water in the air are employed, and when at least 10 gallons of water each 24 hours is evaporated in the average house the effect is worth while, though far from adequate.
Personal comfort is to a considerable extent a question of habit and of individual taste or style of dress.
Every body should begin when the household heating plant is put in operation in the autumn, to cultivate due respect for the thermometer and less faith in personal sensations. Install two or three accurate thermometers at eye level at different points in the house, and set an arbitrary high limit of 65 degrees F. and let nobody's feelings or whims overrule the thermometer in the regulation of the household temperature.
For infants, children and vigorous adults, a temperature of from 60 to 65 degrees is fair and healthful. For feeble or elderly persons the right zone is from 65 to 68 degrees.
Members of the household who find these hygienic levels too low for comfort should cultivate a more wholesome habit, take more exercise, or wear more clothing.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Fashionable Lunch.
Is one tomato and a lettuce sandwich and one apple sufficient food for lunch for a stenographer of my age (18)? Mother thinks it is not. I am 63, inches tall and weigh 125 pounds. (Miss S. L.)
Answer—No, not for a regular girl. It might be sufficient for one of those sunken chested, slumped shouldered, poorly physically educated, frazzled that carry ads for the clothing merchants. Include a pint of certified milk and your lunch will be all right.

W. D. Jordan, a founder of Shiocton and one of the best known men in Outagamie county died yesterday morning. Shortly after 12:45 he breathed 640 acres in the town of Ewing, in company with Russell Johnson. The land included the village of Shiocton which was then virgin forest. Subsequently he purchased the interest of Mr. Johnson and in 1875 he laid out the village plat of Shiocton. Owing to the scarcity of feed and the high price of hay at $14 a ton, many farmers were selling their cattle rather than feed them for the winter.

Oscar Meyer received several severe gashes on his hand Saturday when he fell from a ladder while putting storm windows on the second story of the Leethen shoe store.
While carrying her infant son, Mrs. Edward Weyenberg, tripped at the head of the stairs at her home on Atlantic-st and fell all the way to the bottom. Her arm crashed through a window but her only injuries were a few cuts. The baby was unhurt.
Police and firemen were called to the home of Joseph Buscher, Weimur-st, this morning to assist in removing a cow which had fallen into a 12-foot well. The cow was restored to terra firma by the aid of a block and tackle.
Arthur J. Sasmann purchased the E. W. Burdick flour and feed store in the village of Black Creek.
S. R. Wagg notified the commission council that he would give the city $1,000 if the board would purchase his home lot on Pearl-st for the new industrial school.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
Washington, D. C.—Every man has his own idea of what constitutes the most serious problem before the American nation to-day, but it is probable that many people would agree that the problem of handling traffic—vehicular and pedestrian—is the outstanding one. To-day more attention is being paid to this than ever before in the history of the world.
There are three principal parties at interest, all eager for some solution. First, the automobile driver who finds that his car is not so useful as it used to be because traffic congestion and traffic regulations detract largely from the advantage of expeditious movement which he formerly enjoyed.
He finds that he can not get from his home to his downtown office in a hurry and that he can not make a dash to catch a train or hasten to his country club or back home to be in time for dinner. He finds that his car is not as formerly a means of bridging the gap of distances because he can not actually go to his destination. When he arrives there, he either is not permitted by regulations to park or, if regulations do not forbid, someone else is there ahead of him.
ONLY RECOURSE
In consequence he must do what many business men are doing in cities all over the country; that is, drive as far down town as possible, park his car and then take subway, elevated, surface car, taxicab or his own two legs as means of continuing the journey. Add to this the cost of intermittent fines for infractions of manifold ordinances and regulations and it is discovered that the usefulness of the automobile has materially declined.
The second party at interest is the pedestrian. It is true that there are more automobiles in the United States than there are telephones, but even so the number of persons lacking cars which he helps build and maintain through heavy taxes are no longer his. Only at risk of life and limb may he venture on a journey exceeding one city block in distance, or at most four blocks if he is willing to travel in a circuit.
He finds that the time required to get from one place to another has been doubled and tripled because of the obstructions presented by automobile traffic. He finds he must carry more accident insurance to protect his family or his heirs because of the enhanced risk of daily life.
HARD JOB
The third party at interest is the traffic official who has as difficult a job as any American administrator. He is pestered on both sides, both by automobilists and by pedestrians. He has the task of enabling the motorist to obtain relief from traffic congestion and the task of safeguarding the lives of pedestrians. He is like the two-faced Roman god Janus who looked both ways.
The traffic director has evolved many schemes. There is the one-way street scheme which is notably helpful to the pedestrian because he is fairly well assured that he need look out only for cars coming at him from one direction. Of course, he must bear in mind the driver who drives against the traffic on a one-way street and is amazed that other drivers are all going the wrong way. Such drivers exist, being close kin to the woman watching the parade who noted that all the troops but her son were out of step.

BOULEVARDS HELP
The boulevard system is another invention of the modern traffic director. Under this system certain streets are designated as boulevards or arterial highways and every car, approaching from a cross street must come to a complete stop and await the change of traffic. This enables greater speed on the boulevard, moves traffic out of congestion more rapidly, and lessens crossing accidents.
The traffic cop is as modern as the motor age. Not so long ago no one with the heart of such an officer. If he is a good one he helps, but it is experience of traffic directors that an unskilled traffic cop can cause more congestion than he relieves.
Designs painted on streets, signs of all sorts, speed limits and parking rules are all developments brought about by the new order.
It appears that these devices are helping to cut down motor fatalities. The peak has passed and, although the use of motor cars by the general public is on the increase, fatal accidents show a decrease.
PUNISH DRIVERS
Punishments for reckless driving are becoming more severe and there may perhaps have something to do with the improvement noted. Perhaps the most curious new expedient of the authorities to impress upon drivers the crime they have committed in killing pedestrians or others has been adopted, according to reports, by the Indianapolis authorities. The guilty driver will be compelled to spend an hour in the morgue with his victim. This grim ordinance is almost certain to be held unlawful as it transgresses the Constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishments.
There is an increasing tendency to impose heavier sentences on reckless motorists and to give more actual prison sentences instead of fines. The story is told of one gilded youth who had a passion for speeding. He was repeatedly arrested and fined. After many such experiences he asked the judge before whom he was brought if he might not be permitted to leave a blank, signed check with the court so the authorities could fill it out and save him a trip. This is the sort of

The Question Box
The object of the Post-Crescent Information Bureau at Washington is to tell you, without charge, whatever you may want to know. The bureau endeavors to answer questions in such a way that the information is of the greatest practical value. It replies to your inquiry by personal letter, treating all correspondence as confidential. You are urged to consider the possibilities of this service in relation to your own problems—personal, household, or business. Ask your friends who have called on the Bureau for service about its value. They are its best advertisers. Send in your question and enclose two cents in stamps to cover the return postage. Address The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.
Q. What per cent of the automobile service stations are operated by dealers in cars? M. M.
A. Of 68,155 service stations 53 per cent or 37,291 are operated by car dealers and 47 per cent or 30,865 are independently managed.
Q. What is the name and population of the smallest town in the United States with a first class post office? A. P. D.
A. The Post Office Department says the smallest first class office is Kalispell, Montana—it has a population of 5147, according to the 1920 census.
Q. Is a frost necessarily a "freeze"? K. A. M.
A. During the growing season a period of extremely cold weather accompanied by strong winds, when the air for a considerable distance above the earth is chilled, is sometimes called a "freeze." True frosts occur only when the surface is relatively calm.
Q. Why are replicas of the restoration statue of Venus de Milo always made without arms? J. L. M.
A. Venus de Milo is always represented without arms because when the original statue was unearthed on the island of Melos, the arms had been broken off and were never discovered.
Q. If left free to turn when suspended by a thread, which pole of a permanent magnet will point north? A. B. B.
A. The Coast and Geodetic Survey says that every magnet possesses two kinds of magnetism, that in one end other. If the magnet is hung up on a thread so that it is free to turn and a second magnet is brought up to it, it may be noticed that the north end of the second magnet draws one end of the suspended magnet and repels being different from what is in the other. The repulsion is exerted between like kinds of magnetism and the attraction between unlike kinds. The earth has all the characteristics of a permanent magnet, and for this reason a suspended magnet, when allowed to come to rest, will take up a definite position which is determined by the direction of the earth's magnetism at the place. The end of the magnet which points in a northerly direction in this vicinity is frequently called the north pole of the magnet, but the term north seeking pole is better, as it distinguishes the magnetism of the north end of the magnet from that of the magnetic north pole of the earth, which is opposite in kind as attraction is only exerted between poles of opposite character.
Q. What is the specific gravity of balsam wood? F. M. P.
A. The Bulletin of the Missouri Botanical Garden gives a specific gravity of .117 for thoroughly dried balsam wood, of a weight of 7.3 pounds per cubic foot as compared to 13.7 for cork. On account of the moisture contained in commercial balsam wood its usual weight is placed at from 10 to 13 pounds per cubic foot.

Form New Troops Of Girl Scouts

Girls of Appleton will be given another opportunity to join scout troops during the present week, which is celebrated throughout the nation as National Girl Scout week, according to local scout authorities. A new troop will be formed for girls of Wilson high school this week and it will meet regularly at the school. The Cleveland troop will transfer its meeting place from the women's club rooms to Roosevelt high school and more girls from that school will be taken into the troop if they desire to join. Any other girls in any other part of the city who wish to form a group can do so by getting in touch with the girl scout headquarters at the women's club. Girl scouting is drawing the interest of girls all over the country and many new troops are springing up in America, local officials said.

A part of the national scout constitution which is being worked on by the girls this week states: "The organization favors no creed, party or sect. It is non-sectarian and non-partisan with cooperation with any agency which appreciates the worth of a good woman in the home and the influence she can exert in religious, social and civic affairs." Appleton scouts are endeavoring to carry this out by taking up matters in their meetings which lead to group organization and learning things for giving good citizenship to a large number and fostering outdoor life and activities in the home.

All of the troops are getting ready for the week's big affair, the city rally Friday evening at the club. Those taking part in the tableau of American childhood the feature of the evening will meet Wednesday afternoon after school and at 7 o'clock Thursday evening for rehearsals. The rally on Friday evening is open to the public.

This tells the story!

For this illustration 2 test tubes were used—in tube A was put a teaspoonful of Gold Dust Scouring Powder—in tube B the same quantity of ordinary scouring powder. Both tubes were then half filled with water and shaken. Note the sharp contrast.

A Gold Dust Scouring Powder filled tube to the top with soft white active suds—its appearance shows it is rich in cleansing power and no grit sediment.

Ordinary scouring powder showed scant, grayish suds, half way up tube only—a thin, weak disagreeable-looking solution—and a grit sediment at bottom.

Gold Dust Scouring Powder is a new product. Pure soap combined with a fine, smooth scouring ingredient. It cleans, scours, polishes and purifies at one operation. No disagreeable odor. Try it today.

Kaukauna RepresentativeSTUDENTS HAPPY
OVER VICTORYCoach and Gridders Given
Place of Honor at Enthusiastic Meeting

Kaukauna—Kaukauna high school students in the throes of the latest rejoicing over the victory of the Appleton-Kaukauna football game. Members of the team were given seats of honor in front of the crowd and they received cheers after their Coach Smith also was given an ovation.

Superintendent J. E. Cavanaugh gave a speech in which he commended the boys for the splendid fight and the type of football they played. "Every team that has played Kaukauna this year," he said, "has commended the game on the clean game of football played by our boys. You have made a record for Kaukauna high school that will take a good long time to beat."

Coach Smith then was called on and the crowd would not be quieted. Finally he was allowed to speak and thanked the school for its splendid support of the team.

The party had reached the road near Riverview Sanatorium and the car stalled just as they reached the top of a steep hill. The boys got out of the car and pushed it up the hill and coasted down the other side. They all pushed and before they could get in the car had started down the hill without a driver. Several of the boys jumped on the running board and clung there until the car, reaching a sharp turn, left the road, leaped into the air and cleared a three foot culvert and rested on its side.

Metz received severe cuts and lacerations about the face and shoulders. Tom Darling was bruised about his leg when a wheel of the car passed over him and Roy Darling was pinned under the car and was unconscious for several minutes. The boys soon lifted the car off him and an examination showed that there were no bones broken. The others all leaped to safety as the car left the road.

WEEK'S TALKS

Boyology Expert Will Give
His Famous Series at Clintonville

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—Frank H. Gamel, boyology expert gave his first lecture of a series for the week Sunday evening in the high school auditorium. He was greeted by a fair sized crowd and spoke on Just Dad. He likened dad to the fatherhood of Jesus in the true sense of the word; that it is a wonderful thing to become a father, but a far more sublime one to be a father interpreting God with his boy, establishing ideals, walking just a little ahead step by step and building a home of pals. The boy, he asserted, is the greatest asset in the community, that it's up to father to mold the young mind, and stand by his side all through the years to help develop in him christian characters and backbone that makes good men.

Boys in turn owe a lot to their fathers, the boyologist further said. They must learn to mind, respect and love dad in their tender years, be open and frank in all things and their reward would come in later years.

Four more lectures will be given.

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The high school football eleven will play its last and probably its hardest game of the season Wednesday afternoon, Armistice day, when it travels to East DePere, there to meet the strong eastern eleven. East DePere has always had a superb strong football aggregation, and managed to put up an almost invincible machine.

The Red and White has been practicing hard and diligently for the last week. Two of the men who were severely injured in the Oconto Falls game, Ladwig and Cochrane, both of them veterans, were back again in the lineup Monday. Ladwig will play back in his old position at end in the East DePere game, and Cochrane will be back in at tackle. However, both men are still "under the weather," and both are out of practice, not having taken part in workout since the game in which they were injured. Jillson, who was also put out of the running in the game with the northerners, will be unable to play.

With a practically crippled eleven, the Red and White takes on East DePere, probably its strongest opponent of the season Wednesday and hopes to come out on top. A large number of rooters will accompany the team to East DePere, where they will contribute a goodly supply of school spirit to help the boys along.

Tuesday night, The Balance Sheet, for fathers and for sons over 14 only; Wednesday night, Life's Most Sacred Function, for men and for boys over 14; Thursday night or mothers and for daughters 14 years and over; Friday night, Making a Man Of Your Boy.

Beloit Football Mentor, Re-
sents Newspaper Publicity to Charges Against Star

BULLETIN
Omaha, Neb., (P)—Everett "Pit" Purdy, Beloit College football star, not only played with the Omaha Olympics professional grid team but spent the past season as regular outfielder with the Lincoln, Neb., Western League baseball club, scrutiny of the records revealed.
At Beatrice high school, Purdy was a stellar football player.
Purdy's professional baseball career began with the Beatrice team in the Tri-State league, but when the loop disbanded after a few weeks, he spent the remainder of the season and all of the next with Lincoln.
Beloit, Wis., (P)—Coach Tom Mills of the Beloit College team, said Tuesday he had not been notified other than through newspapers of the protests charging professionalism against Everett Purdy, a back on the Beloit college football team.
"It would seem to me," Coach Mills said, "that the ethical procedure would have been at least for a college to file protest with the college concerned first and then if they wish, give it to the newspapers."
Coach Mills said Beloit authorities were aware that Purdy had played professional baseball, but that would not bar him under midwest conference rules. It was also known that he played with the Olympic team of Omaha, Neb., but it was understood that the Olympic team was sponsored by the Omaha Athletic club and was an amateur organization.
"If there is anything wrong with Purdy's standing we will withdraw him," Coach Mills said. "We have played some pretty good football without him, and we can do it again."
An article on the sport page of today's Post-Crescent describes the move which Lawrence college authorities have taken in the Purdy matter. Lawrence officials have notified Coach Mills that next Saturday's game with Beloit will be played under protest if Purdy is permitted to remain in the lineup.
Information received by The Post-Crescent from Omaha, Neb., indicates that the Omaha Olympics, with which Purdy played in 1923 and 1924, was a professional football team. It is understood the team disbanded at the end of the 1924 season because of financial difficulties.

STAGE
SCREEN

TALENTED CAST IN NEW FAIRBANKS FILM

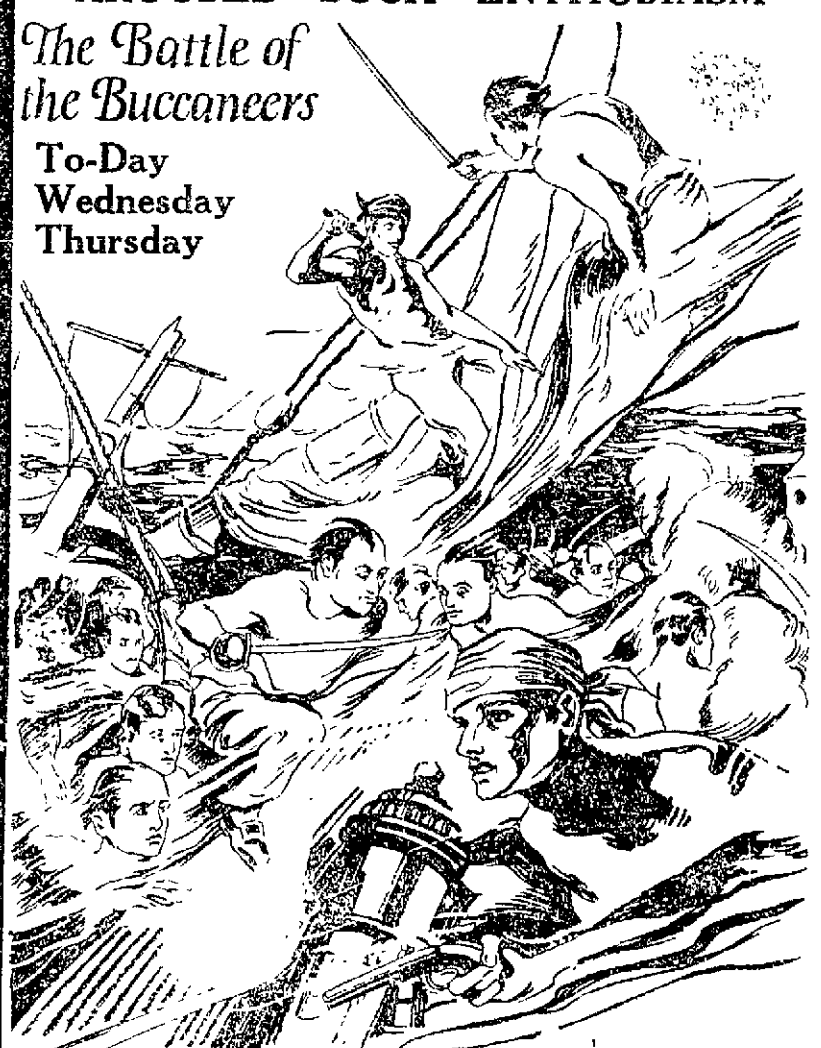

Some of the finest work seen on the screen in many a day was done by members of the cast of that dashing and scintillating new film of Douglas Fairbanks' "Don Q. Son of Zorro," now being featured at the Elite Theatre under a United Artists Corporation release.
Mary Astor, who was under contract to Thomas H. Ince up to the time of his death, is the leading lady and plays Dolores, a ravishing Spanish senorita whose beauty impels Don Q. Son of Zorro to many valorous deeds.
Sebastian, most villainous of two villains in the piece, is played by Donald Crisp, who also directed the picture.
The second heavy, known as Fabrique, is portrayed by Jean Herscholt, already well known to picturegoers as a man of many movie crimes. In fact, he is one of the screen's best villains.
Warner Oland, well known stage and cinema actor, has been given the part of Archduke Paul. J. F. MacDonald, whose screen characterizations are well known, is seen as General de Amore, the heroine's father. Robledo, servant of Don Q. Son of Zorro, is interpreted by Charles Stevens, who specially seems to be doing servant roles for Doug. His work as D'Artagnan's man servant in "The Three Musketeers" was one of the finest things of its kind ever seen in pictures. In the role of Colonel Matsudo is Al MacQuarrie whose representation has brought forth much comment from reviewers for its sincerity and truthful presentation.
Besides Miss Astor's role, there are two other excellent feminine parts, one of which is handled by Mary Pickford's sister, Lottie Pickford. Forrest, and the other by Stella de Lanti. Miss de Lanti appears as Queen of Spain and Mrs. Forrest assumes the character of Lola, maid to Dolores. Mrs. Forrest's work as maid to Dorothy Vernon was what recommended her especially for a similar part in the new Fairbanks feature.
STORY OF EXILED PATRIOT IS MADE INTO GREAT FILM
"As No Man Has Loved," the William Fox photoplay at the New Bijou Theatre today, Wednesday and Thursday is the story of a young army officer who blighted a brilliant career by cursing the United States in a moment of rash impulse. The film portrays his resultant exile on shipboard for the remainder of his life. It is a poignant theme, based on the immortal classic, "The Man Without a Country," by Edward Everett Hale.
In the filming, Director Rowland V. Lee has lost none of the strength and beauty of the story, especially in the handling of those scenes in which the exile sought to redeem himself and prove that he had finally grown to love his country as no man ever loved it before.

Edward Hearn ably portrays the title role, and is supported by an excellent cast including Wilfred Lucas, Will Walling, Edward Dool, William Conklin, Emmett King and Harvey Clark.
Pauline Starke handles, with consummate skill, the difficult characterization of Anne Bissell, the girl who remained true through all the years, and interceded with fourteen presidents in behalf of her lover.
The gaunt figure of Lincoln played by George Billings, and Richard Tucker, the suave counterpart of Aaron Burr, are prominent in a number of scenes. All the historical sequences are handled with great fidelity to detail.
DEMLLE SUPERVISED "THE COMING OF AMOS" ONE OF YEARS BANNER PICTURES
The combination of cast and story in "The Coming of Amos," the Cecil B. DeMille supervised production which opens at the Fischers Appleton theatre on Thursday for a 3 day run, makes this offering from the DeMille studio one of the banner pictures of the year.
Directed by Rod La Roquette, who is starring in the title role, the list of players in this Producers Distributing Corporation release is unusually brilliant. Jettie Goucal as a Russian princess in a colorful role, Noah Berry as the villain, and Trixie Friganza, Richard Carle and Clarence Burton in other featured roles make up the excellent supporting cast.
The story adapted from William J.

SIX ENTERED IN SPEECH CONTEST AT HIGH SCHOOL

Annual Declamatory Will Be Held in Fall Instead of Spring Hereafter

The annual declamatory contest of Appleton high school will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the school auditorium with six contestants participating. Several musical selections by members of the high school orchestra will furnish part of the evening's entertainment. Judges have not yet been chosen. Miss Ruth Moken is in charge of the contest.

In past years the contest was held in the spring but it has been changed this year with the reorganization of the expression program for the period. It was found advisable to reorganize the speech work somewhat in order to correlate more closely with the Fox River Valley conference work. The winner of the local school contest enters the valley meet as a representative of Appleton high school.

The local expression department will hold three different contests during the school year. Declamatory is limited to girls and will always come in the early spring, will be limited to boys; extemporaneous speech, near the close of the school year, will be open to boys and girls. Each contest is being sponsored by an individual or group of Appleton citizens who are interested in this phase of school activity and each will present a trophy for the winner. George Dehn, a former high school declamator, is sponsoring the declamatory contest; the class of 1924 is promoting oratory; and Frank Hyde is sponsoring the extemporaneous contest.

Contestants and their selections for Thursday night are:

Underneath the High Old Tree .....
A Pair of Shoes ..... Marie Meyer
The Last Word ..... Dorothy Galt

COUNTY COPS GET 3 MORE SPEEDERS

Nothing to Rumor That Mo-torcops Have Quit for Year.
Drivers Learn

There has been a rumor around this vicinity that Outagamie county motorcops have been taken off the highways for the season, and that in the future they stopped on the east side of the county, meaning they appeared in municipal court to pay speeders' fines. These who learned through experience that county cops still are active are Herman Miller, Menasha; Arthur Greenwood, Milwaukee; and Harvey Clough, Menasha. All were clipping off speeds of 50 miles an hour or over.

Miller was arrested by Officer A. Dunn Miller Friday in the town of Vandenberg, for eating up distance at a 55 mile an hour clip. Officer Alfred Dunn got Clough Saturday in the town of Greenville, and picked up Greenwood Sunday in the town of Horton. Each were "clipped" 50 miles an hour. Miller and Greenwood paid $12.50 each in municipal court Monday morning, and Clough was to pay Monday afternoon.

25 NAMES ON HIGH SCHOOL'S HONOR ROLL

Twenty-five students of Appleton high school are included in the honor roll for the second quarter of the first semester, according to report cards issued Monday. This number is much larger than the number at the end of the first quarter.

Students on the A honor roll must attain a mark of 93 or above in four subjects while those on the B honor roll must get grades of 85 or above in three subjects. Kautz was arrested last Friday by Officer Carl Radtke, who declared the motor was traveling 50 miles per hour on W. Washington.

That "pay-day smile" when you smoke P. A.

WHEN a fellow's happy as a spring robin, he's just got to show it. Face lighted up like a sample house. Look at those jimmy-pipers all around you. You can't tell whether they've just got a raise, or whether they've been mentioned in a rich uncle's will.

But here's the secret: They've discovered Prince Albert! Just you tuck a neat wad of P. A. into the muzzle of that little old jimmy-pipe and make fire with a match. Man, alive. Here's tobacco as IS tobacco. Mellow. Mild. A win in every draw.

No other tobacco is like Prince Albert. Cool and sweet and fragrant. Not a nip or a scorch in a barrel of it. The Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch, and develops a tobacco flavor that has solace and satisfaction written all over it.

Quality tobacco and no mistake. Quantity too! There are TWO full ounces in every tidy red tin. (Look at the revenue stamp.) Get together now—you and your jimmy-pipe and Prince Albert. Step around the corner and tell the man you want a tidy red tin of P. A. Then you're set for real smoke-sport.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.

6,247 MEMBERS ADDED BY A. A. L. IN TEN MONTHS

Insurance of $7,714,000
Written So Far This Year—
Represents Gain

With the addition of $17 during the month of October, the A. A. L. Association for Lutherans has enrolled a total of 6,247 members during the first ten months of 1925, according to reports submitted to the board of trustees at the monthly meeting in insurance-bldg. Tuesday. The amount of insurance written in October was $824,000, making the total for ten months to Nov. 1, $7,714,000.

These figures represent a decrease of 26 members as compared to the first ten months of 1924, but the amount of insurance shows an increase of $134,250 over that written in a like period a year ago.

Fourteen deaths were reported during October, with claims amounting to $12,750 which were ordered paid to beneficiaries.

Discussion took place at the board session concerning the three new forms of insurance which are to go into effect Jan. 1. They are children's insurance and permanent disability and double indemnity features of policies. Preparations also were made for closing up the business of the year in readiness for the semi-annual meeting of the board of directors next month.

More People Request Garbage Disposal Plan

More sentiment in favor of action by the city council toward establishment of a garbage disposal and collection system is beginning to manifest itself. Coupons are being clipped from the Post-Crescent and are being left at the chamber of commerce and the newspaper office, indicating that there is a growing interest in this movement.

Petitions placed in the drug stores by the special committee of the chamber of commerce also are receiving signatures. These will remain in the stores for perhaps a week or more so all may have a chance to voice their desires.

Within the next two or three weeks the common council expects to make up its estimate of expenditures for the coming year and any expression favoring municipal garbage disposal must be made before that time.

The officials find many demands on the city treasury for various projects which the public wants and will be guided largely by what the general sentiment is.

Those who have not signed a petition and are willing to add their word in favor of free garbage collection by the city are asked to fill out the coupon below and leave it either at the Post-Crescent office or the chamber of commerce.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL PETITION

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Appleton:

Recognizing the need for better sanitation and health in our city and to present the popular demand in a definite way, I the undersigned property owner (or voter) of the city of Appleton, respectfully request that an up-to-date system of garbage collection and disposal be instituted which will be available to the entire population of the city. Also that an ordinance be passed prohibiting anyone from leaving uncovered garbage, the decomposition of which will be a nuisance and general menace to public health.

SEEKS DAMAGES OF $2,200 FOR WRECKED AUTO

Appleton Man Accuses Son of Freedom Farmer for Driving Recklessly

The case of C. H. Maas of Appleton vs. Louis Jarow of the town of Freedom, which is being heard in municipal court, was expected to go to the jury Tuesday afternoon. Taking of testimony had been completed at noon.

Maas is suing for $2,200 to pay damages he alleges was caused by his automobile in a collision with a car belonging to Jarow, and driven by his son, on July 19 at the intersection of highway 55 with the town-line road running east and west between the towns of Freedom and Osborne.

Maas alleges in the complaint that Leslie, 17-year-old son of Louis Jarow, approached highway 55 on the town-line road at a reckless rate of speed and that the youth was driving recklessly, all of which resulted in the collision between the two cars. All charges are denied by the defendant.

The car owned by Maas was in the possession of M. N. Miller at the time of the accident. Maas had given Miller permission to use the machine, the former declared.

The case was begun in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Meitz responded to an encore with "Mother Machree," using four ham-mers. Miss Ruth Hagen, a student of the Bannister School of Dancing, presented a ballet dance to the strains of "Over the Waves Waltz," after which Miss Isabelle Wilcox, soprano, gave a beautiful rendition of "Il Racio." ## WEEK OF PRAYER

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10
God and Sin in Personal Life
"And turning to the woman he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet; but she hath washed my feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. Thou gavest me no kiss; but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint; but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. Therefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much; but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven."—Luke 7:44:48.

The renewal of mankind begins with the renewal of the individual. Every one, whether a Christian or not, is engaged in a daily struggle against that which is evil. Sin shows its power in his own heart and in the world which surrounds him. His conscience is subject to mistakes, his strength to exhaustion.

Without Christ we are in this fight without hope. If repenting and faith we are born again, we can enter the Kingdom of God. The Cross of Christ points the way. His triumph as risen Lord gives victory. The Cross shows the power of sin and the loving will of God to suffer in order to save man. Christ risen gives assurance of victory over sin and death.

Questions
Do we fight for the victory of Christ in our own lives through daily prayer? Is Christ in His fight against evil

GOOD YEAR

Non Skid TIRE CHAIN

Protection-Satisfaction-Economy

Observe the unique cross-link construction of the Good-year Rubber Non-Skid Chain. Built of toughest quality tread stock, and bearing the diamond blocked All-Weather Tread design for added traction, this new tire necessity offers a number of distinct advantages over ordinary non-skid equipment.

It will deliver far greater mileages than any other type of chain.

It will more effectively retard sid skidding on slippery roads and pavements because of the cross links. It will provide better traction in loose snow, sand or mud—particularly in deep mud where the links "toe up" and act like shovels digging in a foot hold and providing a ground gripping surface.

It is especially fitted for Balloon Tires because the flat cross links do not sink into the soft cushioning carcass and tread.

Consider these advantages carefully. Check them point by point against your own ideas as to what constitutes real protection. Then remember that the Goodyear Rubber Non-Skid Chain WILL DO ALL OF THESE THINGS WITHOUT DAMAGING THE TIRE BENEATH IT. Think what this means in tire wear.

Goodyear Rubber Non-Skid Chains are made in standard sizes for Balloons and regular high pressure tires.

TRACTION CO. IS TRYING TO HELP MAYOR CALLS FOR SILENT TRIBUTE RADIO LISTENERS

Issues Proclamation Calling Attention to Observance of Armistice Day

Shut Down Entire Menasha System to Find Cause of Air Disturbance

Menasha—Steps which may result in the elimination of radio interference in the Twin Cities are being taken by W. L. Held and the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company and the municipal electric light and power company which are cooperating with him.

Saturday Mr. Held and representatives of the traction company spent several hours in endeavoring to locate the cause of a disturbance on Thursday and Sunday the search was resumed with the addition of representatives of the municipal electric light plant. Everything in the two cities was shut down for a brief period Sunday, including the Menasha Traction & Light company and the Gilbert Paper company without apparent effect.

After studying themselves the trouble was not in the Twin Cities. W. F. Monigault, assistant manager of the traction company, pulled the main switch at Appleton, controlling the line here to Menasha open and the radio continued immediately. The company gave its assurance it would follow up the trouble at once and do everything in its power to remedy present conditions.

The trouble is apparently being brought in by the high line and the traction company is as anxious as radio owners themselves in adjusting it because of the annoyance entailed. What Mr. Held and the traction company are endeavoring to do is to give radio fans a 100 per cent radio reception.

Instead of reporting their troubles to the electric power plants in a haphazard manner, radio fans are requested to notify Mr. Held who will look after them. Wisconsin Telephone company's lines were tested a week ago. Mr. Held plans to organize a radio club in the near future.

FARMERS TAUGHT TO INCREASE EGG PRODUCTION

DRY MASH, MILK AND SUNLIGHT MEAN PROFITS

Hayes and Amundson Tour County to Aid Those in Poultry Business

Dry mash in preference to grains, milk rather than animal protein of other kinds, and plenty of direct sunlight are the secrets of liberal egg production, J. B. Hayes of the college of agriculture, Madison, and E. A. Amundson, Outagamie county agricultural agent, told farmers who attended poultry meetings conducted about a week ago in various parts of the county.

These gatherings were held at the following places: Omer Servious farm, Oneida; Parent-Teachers association, school of joint district No. 4, Osborn; American Society of Equity at Charles Henning farm, Black Creek; Sam Ruppel farm, Medina; Apple Creek Shipping association at Olie Gehring farm, route 1, Little Chute; Center Valley Shipping association, town of Center; Greenville Equity local, at George Schmidt farm, Greenville.

USE MASH DAILY
Use of dry mash all year around was advocated by Mr. Hayes. He cited many instances of increases in egg production by the use of this type of feed to supplant the grain feeds for chickens. This winter the ration for chickens, with the following proportions recommended for the dry mash: 100 pounds each of ground corn, ground oats, ground wheat bran, standard middlings and either meat scrap, meat meal or digester tankage; also five pounds of fine salt.

Farmers who obtain circular 134 of the poultry department of the University of Wisconsin, may find there a list of the requirements for mash feed.

The ration suggested by Mr. Hayes for scratch feed is a mixture of two pounds each of corn and wheat and one pound of oats or barley. Four pounds of this is to be fed in the morning and eight to ten pounds in the afternoon to each one-hundred chickens.

Milk was advocated in preference to any other kind of animal protein by the university expert. If milk is fed the tankage or meat scrap in the ration may be cut down to 25 pounds in 100 pounds of mash, he said. Where milk is fed, no water should be given, in order to stimulate consumption of milk. When the pullets or molting hens go on the nests to lay, more mash and less grain should be fed.

DOUBLE LAYING
Egg production is more than doubled by means of direct sunlight, the farmers were told. Experiments with flocks of hens conducted by the university with and without sunlight continuously laid 841 eggs out of which 556 chicks were hatched, while another group without sunlight laid 215 eggs and hatched 29 chicks.

Mr. Hayes further declared that sunlight was one of the most useful "foods" that chickens could get. It must be direct, however. Sun coming through a windowpane is useless as far as production goes.

Culling demonstrations were conducted at each meeting. This practice was made plain and simple enough as anyone who has seen it carried out once can do it.

A new bulletin by the poultry department of the college of agriculture, Madison, entitled "Housing the Hen" is now available, the hearers were informed. It is being distributed by J. B. Amundson, county agent. The bulletin contains complete details on building a poultry house 20 by 20 feet in size, even giving a bill of all the materials needed. A good home mash hopper is also described in this bulletin.

Sedo and Spears Herds Are Highest for October in Ellington Club

With a record of 52.2 pounds of butterfat, a grade Guernsey cow owned by Edward Lorentz led the testing for the month of October in Ellington-Outagamie County cow testing association, according to reports of Henry Tschank, official tester. ## What Your Neighbor Is Doing

(This column relates interesting things that are going on at the farms in this vicinity. Every farmer is invited to contribute items about his crops, herds, poultry or his farm itself. Mail or telephone them to "Farm Editor.")

BY W. F. WINSEY

Cicero—Robert Mueller raised 2,000 bushels of corn in the ear from 20 acres this season. After snapping about half of the ears or 1,000 bushels, Mr. Mueller put the product of 20 acres in his silos and has ten acres left to husk. This corn crop will be used chiefly as the feed of a herd of 25 cattle on the farm of Mr. Mueller.

Seymour—William Klitzke, route 4 filled his silo 12 feet by 24 feet from four and one-half acres of corn and is now shredding sixteen acres the balance of his corn crop. Mr. Klitzke said that it took the product of 23 acres to fill the same silo last season. He estimated that his field will yield 50 bushels of shelled corn to the acre.

Osborn—Fred Lotter raised 75 tons of an excellent quality of late cabbage, 25 tons of which he lately harvested. The balance, 50 tons, was frozen in the field and probably is injured by the late, unexpected freeze-up. Mr. Lotter is now rebuilding his wooden silo that blew down in a storm last summer.

Osborn—John Birkholz engaged in the berry-raising industry four years ago as a sideline on his farm. Last spring he had a total of 170 raspberry bushes in his orchard of the Columbia variety and this season he increased that total to 900. When straightened up, the summer growth of these bushes reached a height of ten feet. From the 170 bushes, Mr. Birkholz obtained 970 quarts last summer. He will gradually work more deeply into the berry industry and connect it with the raising of choice varieties of apples. This fall Mr. Birkholz laid down 5,000 raspberry shoots which he intends to use for spring planting.

Seymour—Willis Munger, route 2, raised 60 acres of White Cap Dent and Golden Glow corn this season which is yielding about 100 bushels of ears to the acre. Mr. Munger put 30 acres of his corn crop in silos and is husking the balance. Beside this big yield of corn, Mr. Munger raised 3,000 bushels of oats.

Grand Chute—Fred Schultz, town of Grand Chute, road overseer, is having ruts and mud holes filled on some of the bad roads in the township. The work is being done by several farmers who have not yet worked out their road tax this season.

Center—William Bergholz is owner of 15 6-month-old hogs which will tip the scales at nearly one and one-half tons. The hogs are a cross between the Duroc Jersey and Chester White breeds.

19-LB RECORD IN CICERO HERDS

Barth Cow Is High for Month — Bergsbaken Has Best Herd Average

Production of butterfat averaged 19.6 pounds for 430 cows under test in Cicero-Black Creek Cow Testing association, according to the records of S. Lambie, official tester. Barth Bros. had the highest cow for October and Peter Bergsbaken the highest herd.

The Barth Bros. bovine gave 1,333 pounds of milk in a 30-day test, equaling 50.0 pounds of butterfat. The Bergsbaken herd of grade Holsteins averaged 527 pounds of milk and 21.8 pounds of butterfat, with an average test of 3.3 per cent.

Highest cows for the month were:

Owner	Pounds of Milk	Pounds of Butterfat
Barth Bros.	1333	50.6
Peter Bergsbaken	948	49.7
Walter Blake	781	40.6
Peter Bergsbaken	1110	38.5

APPLE CROP BELOW THAT OF YEAR AGO

The per capita consumption of apples in the United States is now about half an apple a day, says the United States department of agriculture.

The total crop this year will reach 164,000,000 bushels compared with 179,000,000 bushels last year. The decrease in total production, however, is partially offset by the fact that the crop is of unusually fine quality, and less than the usual proportion will go to waste or be used for manufacturing purposes. The portion known as the commercial crop will reach 20,121,000 barrels compared with 28,537,000 barrels last year. Northwestern apples are being shipped rapidly and are now reaching the peak movement.

Federal inspection of apples at shipping points is also greater than last year, inspections in the northwest promising to be 50 per cent more than in any preceding season.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drug-gist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. ## 35 INTERESTED IN CALUMET-CO COW TEST CLUB

Later Session Is Called to Complete Organization—Value Is Seen

Thirty-five farmers attended the meeting Friday evening at the Henry Roche farm, Lakeview, near Darboy, to give consideration to the organizing of a cow testing association. The sentiment was quite favorable and a meeting will be held in the near future to perfect the plans.

William A. Hopfensperger acted as chairman of the meeting and H. Leavelle of Chilton, was present to explain how such an association operates and what it will accomplish.

It is expected that officers will be elected at the next meeting, enough members enrolled to make an association possible and an official tester engaged. "The farmers believe it is wise to have their dairy cows on production test so they will know what the production of each animal is and the cost of his keep."

These dairymen have no way of telling now which cows are "barreners" and do not yield enough butterfat to pay for the feed that is given them. The cow testing records will remedy this situation.

OFFER 20 BULLS AT COMING SALE

Holstein Breeders Will Conduct Auction at Madison Barn on Dec. 2

Twenty purebred Holstein bulls will be offered at auction at a sale which is being arranged for Dec. 2 at the Madison sales barn by Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association. The list of consignors is being prepared, together with a list of pedigrees of the animals offered, according to Edward O. Mueller, who has this in charge.

Some of the bulls will be descendants of cattle with 1,000-pound butterfat records and there will be several from dams with official production records. The ages will be eight months or over.

The sale is to start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and it is expected that a large number of farmers will attend. A number of dairymen are known to be planning the purchase of bulls so as to begin building up herds from their own foundation animals.

STATE WILL ENGAGE CRANBERRY EXPERT

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin cranberry growers will have a specialist next spring to assist them in overcoming disease and insect pests that damage their crop.

Henry P. Bain of Seaside, Oregon, cranberry specialist connected with the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture, has been in Madison consulting with J. D. Jones, Jr., state commissioner of agriculture, and Dr. S. B. Fraeker, state entomologist. Mr. Bain is the leading candidate for the position in this state, it was indicated at the conference.

"The move to obtain a cranberry specialist is being made at the special request of the growers of the state," Commissioner Jones said. It is expected that the expert will be located in Wisconsin Rapids and that he will start work on or about March 1.

MANY CONFERENCE SQUADS BATTLE FOR TOP RUNG

Minnesota-Iowa Battle Most Important Of Week In Determining Leaders

Hawks Strengthened by Return of Kutsch; Gophers Have Three Stars on Side-lines

Chicago, Ill. (AP) Four eager hands are being stretched forth this week by as many football eleven anxious to have a finger in the Western conference title pie.

There is hope for the championship scramble in a tangled mess since Saturday's debacle, to end in a tie among Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan and Northwestern.

To bring this about, the last three must win their remaining games, and Minnesota must lose one.

Thus defeat of Minnesota is Iowa's assignment for Saturday. "Cowboy" Kutsch whose absence last week may have cost the Hawks the title, is back as a feature in a strong offense practice. Line-men are being rehearsed in blocking and charging.

The Gophers' carefully won the prospect of defending their place at the head of the Big Ten standing without Gary, regular tackle, Captain Ascher and Cooper, who with injuries. Almost all a bruised face but can play. The long awaited recovery of "Moon" Baker, Northwestern's star back is a source of cheer and much work for the purple for they now have formations built around the fleet runner and adept kicker.

Purdue, hosts of Northwestern this week, is strengthening defense. Michigan's lineup is in good shape after the unfortunate encounter with Northwestern and is determined to down Ohio State. Edwards is back at tackle to bolster the line and Ford's line of tricks is producing new plays. Murek and Karow, Buckeye backfield stars out with bruises but may be back against the Wolverines.

MARIONS VS. DARTMOUTH

Chicago's exception for Dartmouth, champion of the eastern championship, is being arranged. The Marions, after stopping Red Grange in his tracks, although the mud added them, have a defense calculated to halt Oberlander and other star backs from New Hampshire's Grande Hills. The veteran Stagg, Chicago mentor, is stressing defense, particularly against passes.

Notre Dame is an alumni homecoming to inspire the Redmen to strenuous efforts in practice for Carnegie Tech, coming to South Bend. The Northwestern game next week is not lost sight of since the Purple's defeat of Illinois in his made it a formidable threat.

In good shape after the Chicago game, Red Grange and his Illinois taking things easy for their final home appearance of the season in the game with Wabash. It is the last appearance of the famous "Red" on his own hallowed turf.

Indiana and Rose Poly and Wisconsin and the Michigan Aggies are considered contending games by the two conference teams, which look for easy victories.

BELOIT GROOMS FOR BLUE BATTLE

State Line School Confident of Clearing Lawrence and Taking Midwest Leadership

Be loit—With a Midwest conference football title looming for Beloit at the end of the week, provided a win is chalked up against Lawrence, Coach Tommy Mills stated his squad into a tough last week of drill. There was no layoff for the varsity players, who so handsly defeated Ripon Saturday, and a long hour of basketball scrimmage took the place of the regular work. Snow and sleet on the college field made outdoor work impossible.

Mills will use the same lineup against Lawrence as he started against Ripon, with Purdy at quarterback and Darling at center. The line averages 175 pounds. The trip to Appleton will start Friday morning, with a stopover at Fond du Lac High school for Friday afternoon. Three hundred and fifty Beloit fans will go to Appleton Saturday morning on special train.

Lawrence has lost but one conference game, and a win would put them back into the championship running. The game is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the college gridiron in Wisconsin.

PENN COACH AGAINST STOP WATCH BATTLES

Phila., Pa.—(AP)—Head Coach Lou Young, of the University of Pennsylvania football team, is opposed to the forty plays a period plan for gridiron contests as tried out last Saturday by Brown and Boston University.

"I think instead of speeding up the game," said Young, "it wastes time. I'll grant you it puts a halt to stalling when a team is not to do when there is a few minutes remaining to play. But that does not help any. To complete the 40 plays would bring the game into darkness long before it is over. It is bad enough now. A team can take as much time as it wants in complete play. I cannot see any advantage in the plan."

TWO NEBRASKA STARS

CAPTAIN ED WEIR, INSET RHODES

Two of the featured players of University of Nebraska's formidable team are Capt. Ed Weir All-American tackle last year, and Halfback Rhodes. Weir, one of the best forwards in the game, is playing as well as ever, while Rhodes has done more than his share in keeping Nebraska to the front.

Nebraska got away to a fine start this fall by stopping Grange and thereby trimming Illinois. Defeat by the strong Missouri eleven, however, destroyed some of the prestige gained by a win over Bob Zupke's Illini.

Illini-Penn Game Proves Schedule Is Aid To Coach

BY BILLY EVANS

It is possible for a football coach to pave the way to a winning season months in advance of that time.

I have reference to the making of a team's schedule. Since a majority of coaches have the last word in the assigning of dates, the schedule is largely molded around their judgment.

Not so many years ago if a major college eleven had three outstanding games on its schedule it was living up to precedent. If four games were arranged the schedule was considered a heavy one.

Now it is not at all uncommon for a college to have six big games, two a week, and possibly one or two extra spots in all the dates a soft one.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the year in football circles was the easy manner in which Illinois beat Pennsylvania. The schedules of the two teams without a doubt played a prominent part in that dope upset.

While heavy schedules are the rule rather than the exception this year, few colleges in the country contracted for bigger things than did Illinois and Pennsylvania.

An idea of Penn's ambitious schedule can be gleaned from the fact that on successive Saturdays it met Brown, Yale, Chicago and Illinois.

Now glance at what Illinois faced at the start of the season. First came a meeting with Nebraska, which always has one of the best teams in the middle west. The next four opponents were Butler, Iowa, Michigan and Penn.

So when Penn faced Illinois it had been through three terrific struggles and Illinois had weathered four. I say weathered, because in three of the four games Illinois had suffered defeat.

In football a coach usually points his team for certain games. That is, he wants his squad to be in top form for those particular dates.

Prior to the Illinois game the big test spot in Penn's schedule was Yale. It was the first meeting in years and Penn wanted to beat Yale more than any other team on its schedule with the possible exception of Cornell. It succeeded.

There is no wiser coach in football than Zupke of Illinois. After being beaten by Nebraska and Iowa, I am inclined to think that he set his cap to beat Michigan and Pennsylvania. He pointed for those two games.

How Illinois held Michigan, one of the greatest teams the west has had in years, to a 3-0 victory, is now football history. Even more remarkable was the victory over Pennsylvania.

Another thing that figured big in the Penn-Illinois game was the old mental hazard, which was on Penn's side. Prior to the Illini contest Penn had a clean slate, while Illinois had suffered three defeats.

Penn had everything to lose and Illinois all to gain. Every one expected Penn to win no one Illinois.

There is no getting away from the fact that the schedules play a big part in a team's success. Without detracting in the least from Illinois' great victory, it was fortunate in getting Penn at the right spot.

"RAZZBERRY" FIGHT FAN TO CHOOSE OWN ARBITER

San Francisco (AP)—The gallery boxing fan that vociferous individual whose sparring wit and caustic tongue argues no referee whether prominent or unknown, is to get a chance to name his own ring officials.

This was made known Tuesday by Al Young, promoter of the National ball bouts, who announced that beginning with Tuesday night's show he would inaugurate a policy under which the audience will choose the man in the ring hereafter. An abundance of idle referees and recent unsatisfactory endings to bouts at the hall prompted the plan.

Selection will be made through an elimination test and the plan includes issuing of voting ballots to spectators at every smoker. Two different referees will officiate at the weekly shows for the next month and a half and the patrons will vote upon each man's work. At the end of that time the arbiter receiving the greatest public endorsement will get to officiate at the main bouts. The runner up will work in the semi-finals. The selected officials probably will rule for a period of several months.

4 CITIES START HOME CAGE LOOP

Appleton Will Have Squad in New Eastern Wisconsin Semi-pro Basketball League

Appleton cage fans will receive their fill of the basket sport this winter as the result of the organization of the Eastern Wisconsin Home Talent basketball league which took place late last week at Fond du Lac. It was decided to go through the season with four clubs instead of six as was planned when the project first was discussed and Appleton, Menasha, Kimberly and Fond du Lac were admitted to the new loop. All of the teams will be operated on a semi-pro quints and along the same lines as the Eastern Wisconsin basketball league was during the past summer. The diamond loop was a great success for its first season with Lawrence college and the high school squads and prospects of a pro team here, Appleton will have four crews in action.

Appleton was represented at the meeting by C. O. Baetz, American Legion athletic manager and manager of the Appleton basketball team this summer, and Elmer Schabo, a Legionnaire and an umpire in the diamond loop. The Legion probably will back the local squad as part of its athletic program. There will be two games a week played during the season, each team getting one at home and one on the road.

Another meeting of the league organization will be held in Menasha Friday evening when a constitution and schedule will be drawn up and officers elected. Referees and other officials also will be home talent men. Open dates will be left on the schedule for the booking of exhibition games. Representatives of the various cities at Fond du Lac last week included City Athletic Director R. C. Miller and J. H. Ramsey, Menasha; L. O. "3-53" Cooke, Kimberly; Pete Lepine, Fond du Lac; C. O. Baetz and Elmer Schabo, Appleton. Menasha will be represented by a city team sponsored by the Menasha Athletic association of which Mr. Miller is the head. Kimberly by the Kimberly-Clark mill team, winners of second place in the state amateur meet last year. Fond du Lac, by the Moose lodge team. Appleton by the Grey-Johnston post of the American Legion.

Zussman, Blue Halfback, Lost To Catlin Squad In Midwest Game With Beloit

Four-year Veteran Added to Lawrence Cripples With Torn Ligament at Carroll

John "Jake" Zussman of Appleton, quarterback and halfback on the 1925 Lawrence college football team, will not play in the Beloit-Lawrence battle which closes the Blue and season here Saturday and may also be out of basketball during the year. Zussman pulled a ligament in his knee when he was tackled by a Carroll player at Waukesha last Saturday and is unable to be about. The Blue half is a senior this year and Saturday's game was his last for Lawrence. He has played four years, including the present season, putting up a steady game at quarter and half and was one of the hardest fighters on a Blue athletic team.

While it still is uncertain as to his playing basketball, he will at least be out for the early part of the cage season. If he is lost to the Denny squad it will mean the entire rebuilding of last year's state, Little Five and Midwest title squad, with Kotal a guard and Zussman, a forward, on the missing list and Ashman, center, with a bad ankle. Zussman played forward three years, captaining the team last year.

Two other injuries which were suffered by Blue gridlers in the Carroll game and which appeared to be serious may not handicap the Catlinites in the battle with Beloit Saturday. Ashman injured his ankle and after playing part of the time it was removed. After he was out Carroll got its only touchdown. However, Red will be back in the game Saturday, according to indications. Uppke, Blue center, received a kick on the head and suffered a slight concussion of the brain. He refused to leave the game, however, and played three quarters of it while out of his head and still put up a great battle against Uppke, a constant opponent. He completed a perfect pass as an end but with a clear field ahead of him skidded out of bounds. He will be ready for Saturday, Blue coaches said.

Arthur Mortensen, 17 year old 92-pounder in a ranch in Idaho, his home state. The rest went into bonds, he said, on passing through Chicago Monday enroute to visit his mother in Homedale, Idaho.

The governor expects to see Mr. Lewis here on Wednesday and Major Inglis in Harrisburg the next day. PUT CLAMP ON RADIO BROADCAST STATIONS
Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Committees of the fourth national radio conference went to work Tuesday on the special problems assigned to their study with overcrowding in the broadcast band and the relations between broadcasters and music copy-rights over shadowing all other questions before the delegates.
The nine committees named by Secretary Hoover at the opening session of the conference Monday were scheduled to make their preliminary reports, after separate meetings, to a full meeting of the conference later in the day.
Recommendation that no more licenses be given broadcasting stations until there has been a reduction in the number now in operation was made in a resolution adopted here by a sub-committee of the fourth annual radio conference.

EMPLOYEES TO SHARE IN WESTERN UNION PROFITS
New York — (AP) — The Western Union company plans a distribution of $3,000,000 surplus profits in salary increases based on merits to land line employees who are earning less than $3,000 a year.
The increase, to represent 7 per cent of the aggregate salaries of the eligible employees, will become effective Jan. 1. The company announced it was doing three times the amount of business it did in 1914, and attributed the increase to reduction in the time of transmission.
The announcement of the salary raise set aside rumors that stockholders would share in the profits through a 50 per cent stock dividend. The rise in the stock on the exchange to $140 was thought to have been caused by anticipation of such a dividend.

APPLETON GIRL WINS LEGION'S ESSAY CONTEST

Miss Elizabeth Mearns, a senior at Appleton high school, was awarded a silver medal Monday morning during the assembly period for her essay, How Has The American Legion Helped Build to Uphold and Maintain the Constitution of the United States. The essay won first prize in a statewide contest sponsored by the Wisconsin American Legion to which all high school students in the state were eligible. The essay was written last spring and it survived all preliminary contests to finally win the state award this fall.

Second prize, a bronze medal, was awarded to George's Kelly of Princeton and third prize, a certificate of honor, went to Agnes Dugelen of Milwaukee.

KOEPEKE FAMILY PERILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR

Appleton People Narrowly Escape Death in Grade Crossing Accident on Highway 15

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Koepke, 902 N. Division-st., had a miraculous escape from injury Saturday afternoon near Menominee Falls when their automobile was struck by a train at a grade crossing as they were enroute to Milwaukee. Both escaped with a few cuts and bruises and shock from the experience, although their car is badly damaged. They continued on their way to Milwaukee by train from where they intended to go to Aurora, Ill.

Although few details of the accident have been received here, it is thought that Mr. Koepke applied his brakes when he saw the train approaching, but was unable to bring his car to a stop soon enough because of the slippery condition of the pavement. They were travelling through the heavy snow storm which enveloped that part of the state Saturday afternoon.

"Drunken Bum" Drives Off Tenants And Scares George

George Dime probably has a few grey hairs as a result of a little episode Friday evening which not only gave him a nice scare, but caused the loss of two prospective tenants. On Friday evening two women went to George and asked to be shown the apartments above his store at 203 W. College-ave. The party adjourned to the upper story, but on arriving there, George discovered that the meter had been taken out, and the rooms were minus illumination. Undaunted by such a little thing as no lights, the eager landlord struck a match, and started to pull up the shades to let some of the brightness from the street in, when suddenly a blood curdling shriek filled the empty and dimly lighted apartment, and the prospective tenants rushed out of the room and down the stairs so fast that terrified George didn't have time to realize what was happening.

George, who was rather disconcerted by the sudden turn of events, dashed out into the hall, and there stood debating whether he should again enter the dark room or wait until morning. His courage finally won and he tiptoed back and started looking around, stealthily to see what the cause of all the panic might be. Then he saw it, and his heart again leaped up in his neck. There in one of the darkest corners of the room was a man slouched down on a bench, a desperate looking character as far as one could tell in the dimly lighted room.

After George had somewhat recovered his poise he started softly but hastily down the stairs to call a cop, thinking the intruder might be a drunk or bum, who had gone into the building to get warm. As he reached the sidewalk he encountered Jerome M. Hanson, local representative of the correspondence school, who has his office on the second floor of the shoe store. When George informed Hanson about his hair raising discovery, a broad grin spread over Hanson's countenance, and he laughingly informed George that "the drunken bum" upstairs was none other than the dummy he had used for a week as an advertising display in the window of the former dress
